President Takes Issue With Taft on Economic Problems

White Frost Reported In Upland Regions

Reports of white frost deep in the mountain country and in the higher elevations Tuesday and Wednesday caused some concern for garden and orchard crops, but Albert Kurdt, local Farm Bureau agent, said today that he had received no reports of ill effects from area farmers.

Residents of the Township of Woodstock and others in the county reported that they had observed white frost in mountain areas, but said that the cold weather had done no damage to orchards or gardens insofar as they were able to observe.

Lowest temperatures in the city for the two days were 64 Tuesday and 44 Wednesday. The lowest over last night was 51.

Pilgrim Case May Go to Strike Vote, Yerry Announces

Says Matter Will Be Put Before Union if Pay Demands Aren't Met by Firm

An ultimatum has been served on the management of Pilgrim Furniture Company of this city by George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for Carpenters Local Union No. 1545, (A.F.L.) of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, that unless the demands made by the local are met "not later than June 5, 1947," that it is the intention on that date to place the entire matter before the union for a strike vote.

Notice of such action was served on the company through N. LeVan Haver, counsel for the company, by letter from Mr. Yerry dated June 3, 1947. That letter states that an increase of wages for all workers of not less than 12 1/2 per cent is sought, effective as of January 17, 1947, and certain job classifications adjustments. The union will agree to a two-year contract under its terms.

Contenting that the one day notice is insufficient, a reply was sent Mr. Yerry on June 4, 1947, stating the firm is not in a position to meet the demands, "particularly because of the time limit set."

In his letter to Mr. Yerry it is stated by counsel for the Pilgrim Furniture Company that because of illness in the family of Mr. King it will be impossible to confer with him for a day or two at least and that additional time is needed to confer with other members of the firm who are in New York and elsewhere.

The notice of the intention to take a strike vote today among the union members if the union's proposal is not met is contained in the following letter addressed to counsel for the company and the following reply has been forwarded to Mr. Yerry.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America,
Local Union No. 1545
Kingston, N.Y.
June 3, 1947

Mr. N. LeVan Haver,
290 Fair Street,
Kingston, New York.
Subject: Pilgrim Furniture Company.

Dear Mr. Haver:

Your letter of May 29th regarding Pilgrim Furniture Company was referred to the negotiating committee of the union last night. After considerable discussion we find that the rates of pay offered for time workers is not sufficient to cover some of the lowest paid time workers. Neither has the company offered any increase in pay for the salaried employees nor for the piece workers.

The union feels that any bargaining representations made by

Senator's Philosophy Is 'Fallacious, Dangerous' He Tells News Conference; Says Foreign Aid Program to Help Starving Millions

Washington, June 5 (AP)—President Truman said today that Senator Taft (R-Ohio) has advocated "fallacious and dangerous" procedure on the economic front.

Mr. Truman made this statement at a news conference at which he announced the appointment of former Governor Dwight T. Griswold of Nebraska to be chief of the United States mission to Greece under the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid bill.

Mother of Owner Of West Park House Reported Alone

Three Fire Departments, Port Even, Esopus, Highland Called to Scene

Mrs. Mary A. Love, 80, mother of William Edmund Love, was fatally burned in a fire which damaged the latter's residence in West Park this morning.

Investigating State Troopers at the scene said that Mrs. Love was apparently alone in the house when the fire, which was of unknown origin, broke out near 10 a. m.

Mrs. Love, owner of the stone house which is near Route 9-W and the West Park station road, is a son-in-law of Julian Burroughs, son of the world-renowned naturalist John Burroughs.

The investigating police also expressed concern for William Devore, aged blind neighbor of Mrs. Love, who had been a frequent visitor at the residence, but he was located later.

Calls were sent in for the Esopus, Highland and Port Even fire departments. The firemen were able to save some of the structure, but it was nearly destroyed in the blaze.

Corporal Austin and Reilly were in charge of an investigation.

The officials said that Mrs. Love had been on the second floor of the house, which is part frame, and that she had apparently fallen through the floor as the fire burned through.

Corporal Jesse McHugh, of Wallkill, was notified.

Ratification Is Conceded

Washington, June 5 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) conceded today the Senate would ratify the Italian treaty he opposes as well as those for Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. The Senate agreed to vote at 2 p. m. (1 p. m. E.S.T.) on the pact signed at Paris February 3, 1947. Senator Connally (D-Conn.), ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations Committee, was the main speaker still to be heard. Connally told reporters the opposition would be lucky to muster 15 votes. A two-thirds majority is needed to ratify. Bridges who criticized the Italian treaty yesterday as "an invitation to war," told reporters in advance that the fight to block approval appeared lost.

Small Nations Attack Plan To Organize World Police

Lake Success, June 5 (AP)—The small countries on the United Nations Security Council today leveled their fire at a Big Five report on organization of a global police force.

Belgium led off the criticism at the opening of general debate yesterday, charging that the major powers were making plans only to stop "certain categories of wars" and offering no provisions to block aggression by a big nation.

Australia was ready to take up the fight upon resumption of discussions tomorrow. At that time Col. W. R. Hodgson said he would brand the whole report vague and inadequate and charge that the 51 small countries in the U.N. had been ignored entirely in drafting the basic program.

Meanwhile, the Big Five itself was divided over plans for establishing the International Army, with Russia standing alone against the United States, Britain, France and China on more than a third of the basic principles.

The report was drafted after 15 months of secret deliberations by the Military Staff Committee, which comprises admirals and generals representing the chiefs of staff of the five great powers. Its acceptance would be the first step toward conclusion of individual agreements with U.N. member nations whereby they would provide land, sea and air contingents for an international force.

Fernand Von Langenhove of Belgium noted that use of such forces would be subject to veto in the council and he said the committee therefore had held that it was not necessary to envisage use of the forces "in the case of a new World War involving the great powers."

The Belgin took the floor after American Deputy Delegate Herschel W. Johnson called for "full and public examination and debate" on the report and urged the

Electric Power Is Restored to City; Midwest in Peril

Gas and Water Facilities Are to Be in Use; Iowa, Nebraska Arc Rained Out

Rutland, Vt., June 5 (UP)—Emergency crews worked desperately today to restore gas and water facilities to this flood battered Green Mountain community of 18,000.

"The first major step in rehabilitation was taken last night when electric power, ruptured for 24 hours, reached the city through auxiliary feeder lines.

The utility services were worked when a nine foot wall of water, released by smashing of a power dam, poured into wide sections of the city Tuesday night. Torrential 24-hour rains preceded the break.

Authorities estimated it would be two or three weeks before normal gas service was restored, but city officials hoped to establish a water connection today for sanitary purposes.

Meanwhile, drinking water was being rushed in tank trucks from Bellows Falls to this city. The vehicles with a total capacity of nearly 30,000 gallons, were loosed by greater Boston milk distributors.

Spring water also was available in several sections of the city. Officials reported that the food and milk situation, described as critical yesterday, was relieved by arrival of emergency supplies.

Few of the 500 families that abandoned homes when the water hounded out of a 20-foot wide creek had returned to their mud strewn dwellings. At least 60 persons were being cared for at the state army where the Red Cross set up quarters. Others had been taken in by friends.

The raging waters spewed mud from five inches to two feet thick in hundreds of residences in the northerly section of the city and battered foundations in some areas.

Damage Is $2,000,000

Unofficial estimates of damage ran as high as $2,000,000. Considerable of that was in crop destruction and residential property wreckage. The business section escaped undamaged.

Four persons reported missing during the height of the flood had been accounted for.

Highways west toward New York state line and south were passable but the route northward was still closed. Telephone service was near normal.

Battered rails forced the routing of Canada-bound traffic and at least one bridge on the Rutland Railroad was a mass of twisted wreckage.

A half-dozen wooden covered bridges—landmarks of old Vermont—were damaged.

Truman Denounces Reds' Coup in Hungry as Outrage

Material Witness Gives City Address

D. L. Stevens, Jr., Held by Baltimore County After Crimes

A young man who gave his name as D. L. Stevens, Jr., and his address as Kingston, N. Y., according to the Associated Press, has been listed as a material witness following reports of alleged rape and robbery near Baltimore.

According to the Associated Press report from Essex, Maryland, Lt. Carroll Simmons of the Baltimore County Police said that two Atlanta, Ga., teen-agers and an older man were charged with rape yesterday in connection with an assault on a woman in the outskirts of Baltimore.

He said Maryland state police had informed him they were sending warrants charging the trio and another man with assaulting and robbing Frank Hogan, 19-year-old University of Florida student who reported he was picked up by four men while hitchhiking northeast of Baltimore, beaten and robbed of $48, and thrown out of the car.

Simmons said one of the Atlanta youths identified himself as D. E. Foster, 19. The other said he was 15. Also charged with rape, the 27-year-old woman was a man who identified himself as J. B. LaGuardia, 27, of Youngstown, Ohio.

The police lieutenant and Sgt. Clarence Todd said all four were named in the warrants in connection with the robbery reported by Hogan.

Several hours after Hogan was thrown out of the automobile near the Maryland-Pennsylvania line, the east Baltimore woman reported four men in a car drove up to the curb beside her and two of them forced her in.

Two Jobs Are Open In Ulster County Health Department

Examination to Be Held to Fill Civil Service Posts; Applicants Must Be Residents

An open competitive Civil Service examination will be held on June 26 for two positions in the Ulster County Health Department. One is for a sanitary inspector at a salary of $2,400 and one for sanitary-veterinarian at a salary of $7,750. Vacancies exist in both positions. In both positions a candidate must have been a resident of Ulster county for one year, immediately preceding the examination.

The examinations will be conducted by the Ulster County Department of Civil Service on June 26 and all applications with fee must be submitted to the Ulster County Civil Service Commission by June 16.

Duties of sanitary-veterinarian are to assist in the environmental sanitation program in the county by performing inspection work of a subprofessional nature, and to do related work as required.

Duties of sanitary-veterinarian come under the direct supervision of the Director of Division of Environmental Sanitation and will include planning, directing and administering the milk and restaurant sanitary program of the county and carry out the veterinarian's duties.

Coal Situation Might Bring Tense Moments Early in July

Washington, June 5—Every sign points today to a new case of coal strike jitters before the threat of another mine shutdown July 7 is settled by John E. Lewis and the operators.

Both the United Mine Workers' chief and the soft coal mine owners prepared to put each other's patience to the test as the last of their contract negotiations broke down yesterday.

The government must return the mines to private ownership July 1 when its authority to continue running the seized pits runs out.

However, on June 27 the miners begin a 10-day vacation called for officially under their government contract.

Thus the deadline for any new strike now looms as July 7, unless some other arrangement is made in the meantime.

There are at least four reasons why either the union or the operators—or both—seem content to bide their time:

1. The Taft-Hartley Labor Bill containing restrictions on strikes in essential industries and providing new mediation machinery, probably will reach the President's desk in a few days, and it should be known definitely by about June 15 whether it is to become law. Many operators would like to see it enacted.

2. Lewis builds up more pressure on the operators for a favorable settlement as the deadline for a strike approaches. But even the owners probably will not object to the ten-day vacation shutdown because of the opportunity it affords to make repairs. Lewis may reason that by July 7 at least some operators will be ready to write a contract.

3. The current stalemate gives Lewis a chance to feel out the sentiment among his miners for another strike—thus determining

Pledges Us To Stop Any Maneuvers

Secretary's Call Marks First Step of U. S. Approach to World Rehabilitation

Direction Is Cited

U. S. Policy, He Says, Is Only Against Four Factors

Cambridge, Mass., June 5 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall called upon the countries of Europe today to work out together a great new program of reconstruction.

He promised American economic assistance and support "so far as it may be practical."

And at the same time he pledged the United States to oppose "any government which maneuvers to block the recovery of other countries."

Without naming any foreign country or party, Marshall declared in the outline of an address prepared for a meeting of the Harvard Alumni Association:

"Governments, political parties or groups which seek to perpetuate human misery in order to profit therefrom politically or otherwise will encounter the opposition of the United States."

Marshall did not specify how much money the American government intends to make available but said Europe must have "substantial additional help" during the next three to four years or "face economic, social and political deterioration of a very grave character."

(The State Department, in distributing advance copies of the outline of Marshall's address, said he might expand or amplify his remarks in delivery.)

The cabinet officer's call for a joint effort by European countries to develop a reconstruction blueprint represented the first step of the new State Department approach to the problem of worldwide rehabilitation.

Survey Is Being Made

He disclosed several weeks ago that his policy planning staff is engaged in a gigantic survey of world needs.

Marshall said United States financial and other help "must not be on a piece-meal basis as various crises develop. Any assistance that this government may render in the future should provide a cure rather than a mere palliative."

The secretary declared "our policy is directed not against any country or doctrine but against hunger, poverty, desperation and chaos."

"It is logical that the United States should do whatever it is able to assist in the return of normal economic health in the world, without which there can be no political stability and no assured peace."

The purpose of such an American policy should be to revive "a working economy," Marshall said, and thus "permit the emergence of political and social conditions in which free institutions can exist."

Declaring that "a very serious situation is rapidly developing" in Europe which "bodes no good for the world," the secretary said the inability of the major powers to agree upon peace treaties for Germany and Austria has "seriously retarded recovery."

"But even given a more prompt solution of these difficult problems, the rehabilitation of the economic structure of Europe quite evidently will require a much longer time and greater effort than had been foreseen."

System May Break

He said "the modern system of the division of labor upon which the exchange of products is based is in danger of breaking down" because:

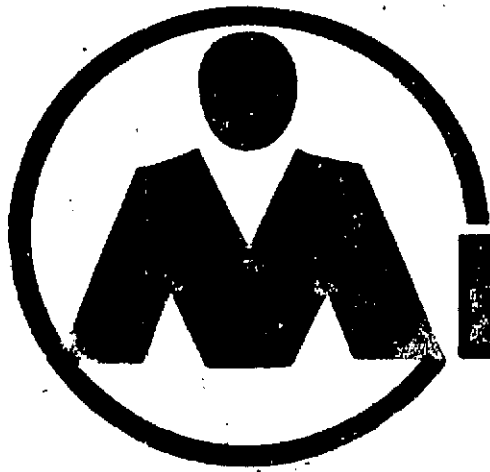

"Town and city industries are not producing enough goods to exchange with food-producing farmers, who in turn withdraw their fields from cultivation and use them for grazing."

"Meanwhile, people in the cities are short of food and fuel. So the governments are forced to use their foreign money and credits to procure these necessities abroad."

"The truth of the matter," Marshall continued, "is that Europe's Both appointments are effective July 1.

95 Proposed Schools

New York, June 5 (AP)—The Board of Education has approved and recommended to city financial and planning authorities an estimated $260,000,000 program for construction of 95 school buildings during the next six years. The board approved the program by a vote of four to two late yesterday.

SHOKAN

Shokan, June 4—Mrs. Don's T. Lynch and son, Dunstan, of New York spent a few days at the family homestead near Tice Tangle Mountain last week. Mrs. Lynch, while recovering after a hospital sojourn, has been visiting friends in the Philadelphia area.

Harold Wilson, assistant to Donald Bishop in the latter's electrical business, is residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McGowan in the east end of the village.

Mrs. Henry Gebbelin has a fine flock of six-week-old Rhode Island Red pullets and cockerels.

The ball games at the local grounds last Sunday drew a good-sized crowd. The Shokan boys lost to Sawkill, 4-3 and beat West Shores 14-0. The home team was considerably handicapped by the absence of Bill Jackson, who was recovering from an illness.

Our Old Timer has caught a few old fashioned brook trout this season. He knows a stream where the gamey fellows still make their habitat. O. T. says that those trout though comparatively small, have a backbone like a steel spring and they pull like a whale; you have to work hard to get 'em but it sure is a lot of fun.

June 2, 1895, was a sacramental occasion in the Shokan Dutch Church of the old village. New members received by the congregation were Shepard Bell, a sawyer at the Broadhead bluestone dock, and Bertha Winne (Mrs. Julie Ryder).

Olive Republicans will meet in caucus Saturday evening, June 7, at Winchell's Hall. Signers of the caucus announcements are Lemuel E. DuBois and Patrick O'Keefe, committeemen from District No. 1.

Callers here Sunday included Harry North, West Olive veteran of World War 2.

Edward Terhune and family were week-end guests at the summer home of Mrs. Terhune's brother, Walter Nighton. Mr. Terhune is superintendent of Standard Oil stations in Brooklyn. Julius Cohn was a guest of the Samuel Cohen and William Cohen families over the holiday. Mr. Cohn is a photographer in New York City.

Local employees of the town highway department are now working on the Traver Hollow road between Route 28-A and the Ross Lynn place.

There will be no preaching services in the Shokan Reformed Church next Sunday morning. The Rev. Richard Coons, pastor of the church, will leave this week-end to attend commencement exercises at Oneonta University where Mrs. Coons will receive her teacher's degree.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lauer of the Flatbush section of Brooklyn were holiday guests at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gebbelin, as were also the latter's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Carlson.

Edward Wiederspiel is building a new log house and yard at his farm on the mountain road. Paul Hahn, who recently sold his Route 28 property, is assisting Mr. Wiederspiel with this and other farm improvements.

Donald North, local scout and high school student, enjoyed a trip to New York the latter part of last week.

Sunday, June 8, marks the 56th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Markle, Sr., residents of Shokan for the past 30 years. was born in Shokan and his wife, the former Julia Bellows, was born and brought up in Manhattan where the couple resided for a time. They have four children, one of whom, Homer, Jr., resides with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Markle are the oldest married couple in the north reservoir country.

Robert Brown of New York spent the week-end with his wife and daughter here. The Brown family returned Sunday, Robert, for the past 10 years, has been on the chemistry staff of the Standard Oil laboratory in Long Island City. He resided on the pleasant Harry Weeks place as a boy and was graduated from Kingston High School with high honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Moore, well known Halcottville residents, attended religious services in the Olive and Hurley Baptist meeting house Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson of Cragmoor were Sunday callers at the home of their relatives, the Frank Jackson family.

Edward Weisenstein, who was an army cook during the war, has erected a sign at his newly opened eating place on the reservoir road.

Stopping at the James Carpenter camp for the holiday were Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter and their sons, Thomas and Patrick. Their guests were Thomas Carpenter, a civil engineer in the employ of New York City for many years and his wife, who was formerly secretary to the president of the Borough of Queens.

Several members of the Albert Wallerstein family of Brooklyn were at their village center place over the week-end.

June 5, 1913: Notices posted that at the close of business Saturday, June 7, the Shokan station of the Ulster & Delaware R. R. will be abandoned. This leaves a mixup in rail communication here and the mail facilities also have not been completely reorganized. Postmaster Elwyn Winchell has closed his store and received orders to remove the post office to the new settlement near Hogsback pending further developments. All this looks like the beginning of the end for the old village which in a few years will be almost entirely submerged by the waters of the Ashokan Reservoir. After 150 years the "Gateway to the Catskills" will again be without a single inhabitant.

Boston Counsel Is At Head of List For Greek Aid Job

Washington, June 5 (AP)—President Truman's search for a director of the $300,000,000 Greek aid program appeared to be near an end today.

Officials familiar with preparations for the delayed undertaking said the State Department has submitted a new list of recommendations, and that a selection should be announced soon.

Topping speculation is the name of Henry Parkman, Jr., former Republican city council member and corporation counsel for Boston and currently an aide on Gen. Lucius D. Clay's occupation staff in Germany.

Parkman, unsuccessful opponent of Henry Cabot Lodge for the Massachusetts Republican senatorial nomination in 1940, held the rank of brigadier general at war's end.

The $100,000,000 Turkish program, devoted exclusively to military help, is to be administered separately, probably by Ambassador Edwin C. Wilson. Senate confirmation is required for the Greek administrator.

Reports Are Denied

Belgrade, June 5 (AP)—Reports that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was visiting Belgrade were officially denied last night by the Yugoslav government.

VACATION BUSINESS
Reports made to the Ulster County Publicity Bureau on the vacation business in Ulster County and the adjacent Ulster-Greene Vacationland over the Memorial Day week-end, provide a signal for what is expected to be one of the biggest summer vacation seasons ever recorded in this region.
Some of the areas reported an all-time record for the past week-end. The large influx of holiday guests was due in part to the long week-end and the good weather which brought out crowds from the metropolitan areas.
Local bus lines reported the biggest Memorial Day week-end business in its history and trains also carried record crowds.
The town of Shandaken and the Rosendale and Woodstock areas reported capacity crowds of guests. In the Ellenville area and from Saugerties and adjacent hamlets also were reported big week-ends. Similar reports of big business over the holiday come from the Greene County regions.
If the pre-season crowds which visited this area over the Memorial Day holiday are any indication of summer business, hotels and resorts may expect an all-time high in business this year.
With the Ulster-Greene area strategically situated, and having diversified attractions for the vacationists, the future of the vacation business here is very bright.

SPORTS AND SPORTING GOODS
The increased participation in active sports locally, as may be seen in the accounts which appear on the sports pages in The Freeman, is in line with the widespread interest taking place in other communities throughout the country.
The tremendous upswing in interest in athletics is reflected in the purchase of sports equipment in local sporting goods stores. This also is in keeping with the general trend in the country. This year Americans are expected to spend about $420,000,000 for sports goods, nearly twice as much as they did before the war.
This vast increase is attributed to greater interests in active sports, particularly among veterans, and to the fact that equipment is coming through in quantity for the first time since the war's end.
A year ago most sporting goods were scarce. Today, with few exceptions, sports enthusiasts should be able to buy all the equipment they need.
Now that our explorers and scientists have swept up almost everything else on this planet, why don't they really bore down inside and take a chance on what happens? Or is it too much of a job?

KENNAN AND RUSSIA
If names mean anything, George F. Kennan, newly placed in charge of Russian affairs by the State Department, ought to be an expert. While his biography in "Who's Who" does not give his parents, nor do other sources of information at hand, it is natural to connect him with George Kennan, the journalist whose "Siberia and the Exile System", published in 1891 shocked the Western world. That revelation of the medieval and cruel character of the czar's government is thought by historians to have had much to do with the eventual overthrow of the Romanoff dynasty.
Russia today cannot be understood without knowing that the governmental system which prevailed until 1917 was utterly barbarous. The only reason why it lasted so long was that its cruelty was tempered with inefficiency.
This is an age that glories in statistics, as previous ages did in other forms of enjoyment.

That Body of Yours
By James W. Barton, M. D.
VALUE OF DENTISTRY
Some years ago a patient in a state mental hospital had a number of infected teeth. A local dentist treated some teeth and removed others. A few months later she became mentally after being a patient in that hospital. The superintendent was so impressed with the dramatic results obtained in this case that he had nose-and-throat specialists examine the patients and remove any infection present. The result of the work of these specialists was that about 40 per cent of the inmates were discharged from the hospital to their occupations or homes.
The above results could not be obtained now as most mental hospitals with general hospitals, have a dentist or dentists on their staff. However, many more mental patients would be cured or greatly helped if the government—federal, state, local—would provide more dental and medical services for all mental patients.
Dr. Hamilton B. G. Robinson, Ohio State University, conducted a survey of the dental needs of 28,000 patients in Ohio mental institutions. He pointed out that the dental needs of these patients are not met and that the state superintendent and dentists agreed with this conclusion. While the general ratio of dentists to population in Ohio is one to 1,600, the ratio in mental institutions is one to 3,000.
One significant statement by Dr. Robinson brings home to us the fact that the appearance of all of us means much to our happiness and comfort. "The mental hygiene of the individual is the patient's load when he or she is sent home without teeth or with unrepresentable teeth, is not recognized."
Fortunately, the need of the whole-time services of one or more dentists in state mental institutions has been recognized for some years. However, at least one dentist and one dental hygienist for each 1,000 patients are really needed to give each patient the dental care necessary to remove infection and to give the comfort and appearance that is such a big factor in raising the morale of the patient.

AS PEGLER SEES IT
By WESTBROOK PEGLER
New York, June 4.—Nicholas Constantin Roerich, the Russian painter who was acknowledged as a spiritual leader and teacher in the mysterious Guru letters attributed to Henry Wallace, is now president of the honorary board of directors of an organization called the American-Russian Cultural Relations Association, Inc. Its headquarters are at 200 West 37th street in the same old, old bleak and shadowy rooms with the so-called Roerich Academy of Arts. There are on the walls of one large room a number of paintings done in a medium that gives the effect of Easter egg dye. These are the works of the old boy with the two eared beard and the quint eyes who looks like Chin Chow and is regarded as a master-intellect. They are flat pictures, lacking in depth, depicting clouds and mountains. Some experts think Roerich is not an artist at all, but there are others who call him a genius.
Anyway, there is no doubt as to what Roerich thinks of himself. His messages to his following, indeed to mankind, are replete with delicate acknowledgements of his virtue.
The executive director of the cultural relations is Mrs. Dorey Fosdick, who was born in Russia but has been an American citizen for 20 years. Her given name is Sina. She has been associated with Roerich since the early twenties and made two trips from New York to Tibet in 1925 and 1926 to fetch supplies to an expedition which he was leading. Mrs. Fosdick says the British and the Tibetan authorities held Roerich for 18 months during that journey but eventually released him.
Although he is known as a guru or mahatma, meaning teacher or great soul, Mrs. Fosdick says Roerich is not a yogi or theosophist, Rosicrucian or spiritualist but a Christian who has studied religion comparatively.
Mrs. Fosdick also says that Roerich never came back from an expedition to Mongolia and China in search of sought-after, resisting grass seed for the United States Department of Agriculture. By Wallace's appointment, Roerich took off in 1934 and just kept on going. Mrs. Fosdick says Wallace let down his old mahatma, ordering him to proceed to India, while in his absence another old friend, an intimate of Wallace in those days and ever since, sicked the internal revenue on Roerich, alleging that he had not paid enough income tax. The amount was about $14,000 and Mrs. Fosdick says it was as nasty a job of it as any you ever saw.
The goofy Guru letters are familiar old business to Mrs. Fosdick. Reading some of them over again, however, she dropped one of the silliest of them onto her lap for a moment and said Roerich always was amazed at Wallace's immaturity, which was the more amazing in view of the fact that he had nevertheless slobbered his way into the position of secretary of agriculture. "Slobbered" is not an inappropriate word here because actually Wallace does drool especially when he is overwrought in public. Mrs. Fosdick said Wallace told her and several other members of Roerich's artistic and cultural household, back there in the happy days, that he had a mystical or spiritual American Indian guide who used to bring him messages from some other world, and a friend named Chou who also served as courier in the same way.
"He would say 'Charlie told me, this or 'Charlie told me that,'" Mrs. Fosdick said. "It was so astonishing that he could believe in that sort of thing. Even then his language was incoherent. There was no clarity. It is the same today. Once he is not pro-Communist. Then he is pro-Soviet. Then he is pro-British. Then anti-British. He is not consistent."

Question Soon to Become Important Is Whether U.S. at Home Will Be Stalemate or Will See Cooperation
By DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington, June 5.—At a time of economic crisis at home and abroad, when there is need for smooth functioning of government and a harmonious spirit, the question will soon become pertinent whether the divided government created by the elections last November is to mean stalemate or cooperation.
Last November President Truman accepted the result of the landslide election with the following statement:
"The people have elected a Republican majority to the Senate and to the House of Representatives. Under our Constitution the Congress is the law-making body. The people have chosen to entrust the controlling voice in this branch of our government to the Republican party. I accept this verdict in the spirit in which all good citizens accept the result of any fair election."
The Republican majority, aided materially by Democratic votes, has sent to the White House a bill to reduce taxes and next week the President will receive legislation to regulate labor-management relations. These two measures reflect the wishes of a preponderant number of members of both houses of Congress, irrespective of party.
If President Truman voices either of these important measures, will it not mean that he is interpreting his constitutional right of veto to thwart the will of a majority which is very close to two-thirds? Will it not mean that any legislation opposed by the President will, for the years 1947 and 1948, require virtual unanimity—that is, more than two-thirds in both houses?
Mr. Truman has it within his power to stymie the legislative situation until the issue is decided in the elections of 1948 and a new Congress takes office in January 1949. In an era in which "streamlining" is urged and in which Congress itself has been reorganized to do business more expeditiously, the question arises whether the exercise by Mr. Truman of his right of veto will not dramatize the conspicuous weakness in America's constitutional system—the extraordinary power vested in one man to oppose the will of nearly two-thirds of the legislators of both houses.

Whether We Like It or Not
The Nations of Europe
ONE ECONOMIC WORLD

These Days
By George E. Sokolsky
It is characteristic of the Army that time comes when men are exiled to posts of insignificance, perhaps to make sure that they do not forget the routine of fortifications, the pettiness of army post life, the smallness of being king of a few acres.
General Mark Clark is beyond doubt one of the most competent statesmen in the service of the American people. His heroisms were in the line of duty but his administration in Austria, his grasp of the essential problems of Middle Europe, his genius for handling the Russians, his foresight in bringing to bear upon Middle European affairs the principles now called the Truman Doctrine were marks of ability not expected in any army officer and his execution was far beyond the line of duty.
So just at the moment when the Greco-Turkish enterprise is being put into effect, and when the Russians have seized Hungary, Mark Clark is brought back to the United States to be stationed at the Presidio where he can twiddle his thumbs in the pursuit of paper routine that any colonel can do just as well.
San Franciscans are fortunate that General Clark will be in their midst and I am sure that he will add lustre to the Bohemian Grove this Summer. But it seems to me that he should be stationed in Germany, Austria, or Greece where he could continue to do the job for which his natural gifts and his vast experience have fitted him.
Obviously, the same mistake was made with General Wedemeyer, an equally gifted army officer who has been trained as an expert in Far Eastern affairs. It was planned to make General Wedemeyer the American ambassador to China but for reasons never given the public, he was, at the very last moment, by-passed, and the aging not particularly suited missionary educator, Dr. Leighton Stuart, was appointed to that post with General Marshall in charge of our affairs there. Between them they made quite a mess of our policy in China, pursuing a course there precisely and completely opposite to the Truman Policy. The result has been a major disaster not only for China and Korea but for the United States.
I have been told by those who ought to be familiar with what went on at Moscow that General Clark, the expert on Austria, was at loggerheads with other advisers of George Marshall, particularly with Ben Cohen and Charles P. Kindleberger, neither of whom are as competent in this particular field as he is. The policy-making group in the State Department whom those two represented at Moscow, would have preferred, I am told, some treaty over Austria rather than none at all. Kindleberger is a former Treasury man shifted over to the State Department and put in charge of the Economic Desk of the German section where his function is to adhere to the Morgenthau Plan as implemented by JCS 1087—an unworkable and harmful doctrine that Herbert Hoover so ably exposed.
These State Department policy-makers are desirous of having the Italian Treaty confirmed by the Senate, in spite of the obvious fact that it is a direct violation of the Truman Doctrine and in spite of the fact that it is a gift of Italy to international Communism. They still hope to arrange an Austrian Treaty. Anything to get something on paper—duly signed with seals and ribbons, even if that anything is in conflict with a foreign policy voted by Congress and proclaimed by the President!
So they prefer to have such a man as Mark Clark out of the picture. He can play bridge at the Governor's Club, he can play Russian roulette at the Bohemian Club; he can get stashed at George Merdikian's. But a great talent ought not to be wasted in this manner. It is a little difficult to understand why the Republican Congress, which was going to begin its sessions each day with a prayer and end them with a proboscis, has thus far done not one thing to rescue the government of the United States from the little men who run the State Department.

Fielding Declares Problem Is One of National Scope

New York, June 5 (AP)—City License Commissioner Benjamin Fielding, conducting a "fact-finding" survey of the automobile market in New York, has declared what he describes as a "national problem" where "we have used car dealers in the new car business."

Fielding said his investigation has disclosed "an unprecedented situation with thousands seeking new cars from new car agencies and getting them from used car dealers."

We are confronted with a national problem because cars of 1947 manufacture are flowing into New York market from all over the country," he said.

The commissioner said the average price paid by used car dealers for new cars was $500 over the manufacturer's delivered price.

Usually, he said, the used car dealer obtains the new car from an individual who has purchased the car by waiting his turn on the "first-come-first-served" lists of one or more new car dealers.

The ultimate purchaser must absorb both the bonus and the used car dealer's margin of profit.

Fielding said his investigation had shown that six New York dealers had handled more than 500 1947 model cars since March 1, and added that a total of 2,500 used car dealers were licensed by the city.

He said the city administrative New York market from all over the country," he said.

ness did not give a definition of a used car, and suggested that local legislation might be needed to establish such a definition.

abandon its vital necessary loan and expenditure programs, if wages were reduced, if savings were exhausted, and if unemployment set in, there would be less demand and prices would drop.
"Senator Taft would call this an adjustment. I would call it a tragic recession or depression. There is nothing novel and nothing worthy about getting a price collapse through reducing the demand. That is the typical road to a depression."
"Old Boom, Bust Idea"
The President said "Taft's economic philosophy follows the old idea of boom and bust." For his own part, Mr. Truman added, "I utterly reject this defeatist economic philosophy," believing "in maintaining a full employment, full production economy."
His own interest in voluntary price reductions "is undiminished," Mr. Truman said, adding that "the drive for voluntary price reductions, while it has not gone far enough, has already yielded substantial results."
The President said peaceful wage adjustments in some major industries took place without price advances and that in recent months the trend toward extraordinary price increases "has been checked and moderate price declines have taken place."
The President laid great stress on his statement replying to statements attributed to Taft, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.
Why Taft? Asks Newsmen
A newsmen wanted to know why he had singled out Taft, who has been frequently mentioned as a Republican presidential possibility.
Mr. Truman replied that Taft has made a statement that won't hold water. He called Taft the spokesman for the economic philosophy that Mr. Truman is attacking.
Mr. Truman said Taft has stated that loans to other countries for the purchase of American goods "increase the competition on home markets and thus force prices up."
Saying these programs place a strain on the American economy, particularly in the current inflationary situation, Mr. Truman declared.
"The fact that necessary foreign aid programs add to our economic problems at home makes it all the more important that we handle these domestic problems with vigor and common sense."
"Price reductions, wherever they are possible, are made even more urgent because of the additional strain which the world situation, inseparably places upon our own economy."

how far he can go in pressing his demands for a 35-cent hourly wage increase and generally bettering from the union standpoint—his government contract of a year ago.
4. The time lapse also provides an opportunity for private negotiations between Lewis and one or more smaller groups of operators who may be more willing to come to terms with him.
The southern coal negotiations broke off yesterday when the union negotiators refused to appear because of what they called the operators' disregard of an earlier agreement not to disclose bargaining terms.
The owners had announced publicly late Tuesday their offer of an 85-cent daily pay increase, provided present portal to portal allowances were wiped out.
The negotiations for the remainder of the industry, in the north and west, broke down last Saturday.

Ringelman Dismissed On Reckless Driving

A truck of John Flaherty, 47, of Connelly, and the car of Robert Ringelman, 46, of Creek Locks were in collision at Blomington Wednesday afternoon near the DeGraff residence. No one was injured but both cars were considerably damaged. The crash was investigated by Identification Officer Leonard Belmont and Deputy Sheriff Harry Keator.
On complaint of Flaherty, a charge of reckless driving was made against Ringelman and he was placed under arrest and taken before Justice Brodsky of the town of Rosendale where $100 bail was set for a hearing today. This morning the complaint was dismissed when the complainant declined to prosecute. Officer Belmont said the accident happened on a curve when the Ringelman car was driven over to the left of the road, striking the truck which was proceeding toward Route 32.

Aero Medical Men Hear About Ejector For Use on Planes

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor
Atlantic City, June 5 (UP)—A human jack-in-the-box, at Wright Field, Ohio, that has shot 88 men safely up 50 to 60 feet in less than a second was described to the Aero Medical Association today.

The contrivance is an ejector, now about perfected, to throw men out of planes doing 600 miles an hour, tossing them so high that the plane's tail will not hit them when they bail out. Actually this ejector is a cannon five feet long, firing a 37-millimeter shell.

The cannon shoots out a heavy rod instead of a projectile, and the rod is fastened to the back of the pilot's seat. Seat, pilot, and what-ever he needs for survival all shoot out in one tight bunch.

The shots and their effects on human beings were described by Lt. W. H. Ames, Dr. H. M. Sweeney, and Dr. H. E. Savelly of the Aero Medical Laboratory at Wright Field.

Though this is the nearest thing yet to shooting a man out of a gun, the experience is amazingly easy, to hear Lt. Ames tell the story. In one shot he accidentally had a lighted cigarette in his mouth. As he rose with a tremendous acceleration equal to many times gravitation, the cigarette tipped down almost to his chin, due to gravitational pull. But it lighted and finished the shot in his mouth without even the ash being knocked off.

Started by Germans
Whether human beings could stand being shot from a plane without having bones crushed or other vital harm was unknown until within the past year. The Germans started the gun-ejector plans but did not finish.

The pilot in the present jack-in-the-box sits at ease. His forearm rests on arms of his chair. When the gun shoots, these forearm take on momentarily about 20 per cent of his weight. He does not have to press with his arm. The added gravitational pull does that automatically. Thus 20 per cent takes that much strain off his spine, and helps make it possible for a man to stand the big jump safely.

If a man's head happens to be slightly forward of his gravitational center, the shot causes head and shoulders to bend down almost to the lap. Lt. Ames said the sight is alarming. But this bend hasn't done any harm.

Two Guns Do Job
Two lines attached to the pilot's belt and to his chair respectively

Then There Was One
The Swedish ship Torsa (1500 tons) on its way from Glasgow to North Sweden, recently had to put in unexpectedly at the port of Illova, Orkney, unable to go further. Reason—20 of the 21 men aboard were down with the influenza.

cock two guns as he is shot out. In a few seconds the chair gun fires and automatically frees the man from the chair harness. In real ejections in the air the pilot has had to push the chair away from him as both hurtle along together, but this push is easy. The other gun releases the escaping pilot's parachute. This gun is set so that it fires by altitude and won't open the chute until the man falls low enough to have sufficient air to keep alive. It won't shoot, for example, at 40,000 feet. There is no black-out in any of these human shootings, because the acceleration is too brief, only a few hundredths of a second.

Savings and Loan Assets Reach $900,000,000

Assets of the 238 savings and loan associations in this state reached $900,000,000 on May 31, an all-time high. E. Frank Flanagan, president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, announced today.

Mr. Flanagan further stated that the Kingston Savings and Loan during the past 12 years has increased its assets by $3,429,710 to a total of $4,727,710.

According to the president, the passing of this milestone in the 111 years' history of savings and loan banking in New York is the result of almost 12 years of continued growth and expansion. In 1935 their total assets were $356,000,000. These associations are in a more liquid position than at any previous time in their history and the reserves set aside by these banking institutions provide a maximum security to persons investing their earnings in these institutions, he said.

Wallander Wants
Special Flying
Code for New York

New York, June 5 (AP)—Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander, who wants to tighten flying regulations over New York city, has named 14 representatives of the aviation industry to a committee to report June 15 on the best ways of doing it.

The problem was discussed yesterday at a meeting of 50 representatives of civil and military aviation.

The commissioner said he has proposed outlawing stunting or advertising flights over the city, and would like to keep planes 1,000 feet higher than the 1,250-foot Empire State Building. He also wants the entire city classified as a "congested area" by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

C.A.A. rulings require pilots to keep high enough over congested areas to make a landing in the event of trouble, and never be under 1,000 feet. Only parts of the city now are classified as congested areas.

Smoothness of a gas turbine engine over a reciprocating engine is attributed to the fact that there is no backward and forward motion; gases are forced against vanes on a shaft, causing rotation.

Transport Board
Will Take Steps
To Speed Service

New York, June 5 (AP)—The city's Board of Transportation is taking steps to keep subway trains running on time in the face of the "rules book" operation which during the past week has resulted in making some trains late during rush hours.

A board official said last night that the use of extra trains, spot changes in schedules, and "use of our superior railroad knowledge of every device and technique" were among the steps being taken.

The Transport Workers Union (C.T.O.) which is in disagreement with the board over labor policies, has emphasized that there has been "no strike, stoppage or slowdown" by subway employees.

In general, union officials said, any leniency of trains can be attributed to the strict adherence to published operation rules by subway employees. The extensive rules, some outmoded, require longer time for the opening and closing of doors, slower speeds on curves, and similar measures.

Power was shut off for eight minutes yesterday along a half-mile stretch of the Independent Subway Division after someone pulled an emergency alarm box.

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Hershberger

"It's a subtle hint to our neighbor to keep his chickens at home!"

YES MAN

My name is Kenneth Carter. I'm the "Yes" man at Personal Finance Co. . . that is—I'm the man who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal loans. You see—I'm the manager of our office—the man who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "Yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. SEE ME at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., of New York, 2nd floor, over Newberry's, 319 Wall St., or Phone me at Kingston 3470.

Coast Guard Picks Up Logged Boat Left by Steels

New York, June 5 (AP)—The Coast Guard reported early today that a water-logged hydroplane boat, found late yesterday by the coast cutter Campbell in Long Island Sound, was abandoned May 28 by Mr. and Mrs. George Steel of Rocky Point, Long Island, N. Y.

The Coast Guard said the Steels abandoned the boat off Rocky Point because of engine trouble. They were picked up by another boat, which cast the hydroplane loose because of inability to tow it.

Various articles belonging to the Steels were left in it. The boat had drifted about 50 miles before it was found today about three miles south of Race Point light on the eastern end of Long Island Sound. The Coast Guard began an investigation after the cutter Campbell towed the vessel to New London, Conn.

First photographs in natural colors taken under the sea were made July 16, 1926.

Baby Bruce Likes His Life Better, His Pa Convinced

Nothing So Easy as Work at Home, Bob Said; Even Muriel Had Her Troubles

New Brunswick, N. J., June 5 (AP)—One-year-old Bruce Trent considers his dry and comfortable apparel and general well-being these days and no doubt has decided that woman's place is in the home.

At least his father and mother have decided that it is.

His father—Army Air Force veteran Robert Trent—swapped jobs with mother Muriel not so long ago. Daddy stayed home with Bruce and Muriel took over the Trent's luncheonette.

Trent still shudders at cooking, laundry and diapers. Baby Bruce probably shudders, too. Only mother Muriel came out ahead. She won a $20 bet.

It started when Robert said, as harried fathers often have said before, "If I had it as easy as you, I'd never complain."

"We never had any bitter arguments," he hastened to explain afterward, "but I (foolishly) told my wife that if I had nothing to do but take care of the house and Bruce, I could do it with plenty of time to spare."

Muriel took him up. She agreed to let him try the house and she would run the luncheonette, patronized largely by New Brunswick High School students.

Couldn't Get Going

Robert rubbed his dishpan hands as he thought about it later. "I thought I'd get everything on schedule," he recalled ruefully, "but I just couldn't seem to get going."

"It was Bruce," he said. "He got wet."

"Every time he got wet, I had to stop and change him, and—ph-f-f-t, there went my schedule."

Bruce's usually cheerful nature was thus pressed. Robert, it seems, hadn't heard that three-year-old baby pants are out of style. They are folded into rectangles now.

A neighbor showed Robert how. The first day, the day that Robert was going to finish the wash handily by noon, the laundry still was on the line at dusk. Dinner was late and scanty, and Robert had burned himself on the stove. Little Bruce's meals were tardy from 30 minutes to two hours.

Lost Chicken Broth

That first dinner started out to be chicken soup from frozen chicken legs. But Robert forgot to take off the wrapping. Then, when he remembered, he poured off the floating paper and lost the broth. Then he added fresh water. At the table it tasted mostly like salt water.

That was the day Muriel and Robert always go to the movies. They arrived at the box office two hours late.

The second day Robert's house-keeping improved slightly. But Muriel spent $12 for the wrong kind of ice cream containers at the store, and she squirted whipped cream in her face just when some friends had stopped in to see how the noble experiment was progressing.

The experiment collapsed midway through the third day. Bob surveyed a heap of wrinkled clothes, dusty furniture, dirty dishes and a fretful baby—and quit.

He handed over the $20 he had bet Muriel that he could stick it out without a quail. "That was the best $20 I ever spent," he observed reverently.

And Bruce? "Ma ma," he chortles, "ma ma."

Pilgrim Case May

the company up to date have not been made in good faith as required by the National Labor Relations Act. The proposals so far made have been all one-sided and in spite of our repeated requests the principal partners of Pilgrim Furniture Company have refused to meet with us or to discuss any of our proposals. In view of such a condition, the negotiating committee submits to you the following minimum requirements that the union will accept.

1. The union requests an increase of wage rates for all workers of not less than 12½ per cent. The 12½ per cent may be used by the company as follows: Not more than 2½ to provide for one week's vacation. An additional 1½ for two holidays (Labor Day and Thanksgiving Day). The balance of 10½ is to be used for general wage increases for all employees after making certain adjustments for job classifications. The increase in pay mentioned herein shall be effective as of January 17th, 1947.

2. The union agrees to a two-year contract as proposed by the management, provided however, that at the expiration of one year from the date of the agreement, such contract may be reopened as far as wage rates are concerned if the cost of living index shows an increase as furnished by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

3. The union agrees to accept the company's offer of an open shop provided however, that in the event of lay offs of employees that union members shall be given preference of employment over non-union workers. The union insists that all of the employees of the company as of January 17, 1947 who have been laid off by the company shall be given the opportunity of reemployment by them before any additional employees are hired.

Negotiations began originally with this company in November 1946 and after considerable effort an election was held on January 17, 1947 at which time the employees voted in favor of the union. Since that time many efforts have been made through you to reach an agreement. On April 16 the company through its management furnished erroneous and misleading wage rate figures to a representative of the New York State Board of Mediations. The Mediation Board suggested a proposed new schedule of wage rates which are considerably higher than those now requested by the union. The rates suggested by the Board of Mediations were based on average wage rates paid by similar industries in the State of New York.

The union is concerned over the company's attempt to erect a new factory building and has hesitated to do anything that might interrupt its progress. We are concerned with public reaction in the event a strike of the Pilgrim Furniture employees takes place. The company however, is apparently not concerned with its intentions to continue paying low substandard wages to its employees. With costs of living as they are today, a company that insists on paying wage rates as low as 53 cents per hour is not an asset to any community.

You are herewith advised that, unless the company enters into an agreement with this union on the terms herein set forth not later than June 5, 1947, that it is our intention on that date to place this entire matter before the union for a strike vote.

Very truly yours,
Carpenters Local Union

Re: Pilgrim Furniture Company.
Dear Mr. Yerry:

I have your letter of the 3rd advising that unless Pilgrim Furniture Company enters into an agreement with your union on the terms set forth in your letter no later than June 5th, it is your intention on that date to place the matter before a union meeting for a strike vote. I am sure that you are fully aware that Mr. King is the only member of the Pilgrim Furniture Company who is in Kingston and that on all of the offers and counteroffers that have been made during the course of our negotiations, it has been necessary for me to confer with the other members who are in New York or elsewhere. I do not know the reason for your ultimatum but it appears to me that you are more interested in stopping work on the new factory building than in negotiating a satisfactory contract between the Union and Pilgrim Furniture Company. I am constrained to take this view of the numerous threats that you have made during the past several months of your intention to stop this work and the added fact that you have undoubtedly fixed a deadline which you know is impossible for us to meet under all of the circumstances.

Mr. King's wife went to the Albany Hospital a day or two ago for an operation and I do not anticipate that I will have the opportunity of discussing your new proposition with him at any great length either today or tomorrow. I am also sure that you are quite aware that the preparation of an agreement and the execution of the same within the next day is an utter impossibility. This is an additional reason why I feel that your demand for the execution of an agreement not later than June 5th is not made in good faith.

In your letter, you again resort to your usual practice of misstatements and inaccuracies. This you have done repeatedly through the public press, having desisted only when you were directed to do so by the State Labor Mediator during the period of time that we were negotiating through him. I have refrained at all times from answering your false, misleading and inaccurate statements since I can see no reason for entering into a controversy in the public press with one who has thoroughly demonstrated his ability to distort truth and facts.

I shall not wait until June 5th

School Petition
To Go to Albany

Woodstock, June 5—The petition, requesting Commissioner Francis T. Spaulding to approve an election for the three-town school centralization, will be completed and taken to Albany Friday morning, it was announced by the committee following a short meeting Wednesday afternoon.

A talk with Edmund Gilligan disclosed 300 signatures had already been obtained in the Town of Woodstock and that no opposition was encountered in either Olive or Shandaken when the three-township plan was properly explained to the residents of those towns. The committee hopes that what it calls "foolish opposition" in Woodstock will continue to diminish.

to give you a reply to your ultimatum for the reasons herein expressed. You have, I believe, deliberately brought negotiations to a close by the imposition of certain terms and time limits in your letter of June 3rd. We are not in a position to meet your demands particularly because of the time limit set.

I cannot close this letter without having something to say regarding your statement that the Pilgrim Furniture Company is not an asset to this community. You might be interested in knowing that there are a great many people who feel that you are a distinct liability. You understand, of course, I am not expressing my own opinion.

Very truly yours,
N. LEVAN HAVER

No date can be set for the election until the commissioner's approval is received authorizing such an election, but it is expected that in all probability the date will be set for the end of June.

When asked if the committee had any comment to make on the opposition's petition now being circulated, and which requests Commissioner Spaulding to exclude the entire area of the Town of Woodstock and the school districts located therein from the proposed Woodstock-Olive-Shandaken Central School Districts, Mr. Gilligan said, "No one on our committee has anything to say, because the opposition petition has no legal standing."

Five inches of rain fell yesterday in Plattsmouth, Neb., located council to reach a decision by the general assembly's September meeting.

Johnston reiterated the American position on the three top issues, splitting Russia and the Western countries. These were bases, withdrawal of troops, and equality of contingents.

Russia contended in dissenting on the report that the U.N. charter made no provision for members to supply bases. Johnston commented on this point:

"If the United Nations armed forces are to be effective at all, the member nations must make available a system of bases in various parts of the world from which they could operate."

On the Soviet Union's insistence that contingents assigned to the U.N. return to their home countries within 90 days after an emergency and not to any outlying locations, Johnston said:

"We are seeking to provide arrangements under which the council could bring its forces to bear in the shortest possible time. Contingents of the member nations will normally be maintained, as they are at the present time, in various parts of the world."

"This natural advantage according to the United Nations should be seized on and not limited by artificial restrictions on the location of the contingents."

Russia insists that members make identical contributions to the U.N. forces (same number of planes, battleships, troops, etc.), contending that any other system would give some countries "advantages."

Of this, Johnston cited the need for a mobile force able to strike quickly and said the Peace Agency should take advantage of certain nations having such forces ready to use.

"The interest of the United Nations as a whole must take precedence over the desires or ambitions of a single nation," he declared.

Ponticello and Kolarick Are Rematched for June 12th Bout

Joe Ausanio Will Meet Sid McDonald In Five-Rounder

A match that holds the essence of a real star bout tops the card of B'nai B'rith scraps for presentation in the municipal auditorium a week from tonight, Thursday, June 12.

The principals are Tony Ponticello of Cleveland and George Kolarick of Cleveland, two rugged middleweights with dynamite in their fists.

Their duel for the 12th is a continuation of the sizzling battle they started May 29, which ended in the third round when Ponticello had to give up because of a cut on the head.

For the duration, it was the best bout on the card, according to one sports writer who wrote:

Kolarick and Ponticello treated the fans to one of the sharpest punching exhibitions of the season in two whirlwind rounds and were rocking each other at a furious pace when Ponticello emerged from a clinch with a cut on his scalp.

Ponticello Requests Rematch

When Referee Emmett Ryan stopped the bout, Kolarick, a lethal puncher, was beginning to move ahead. Ponticello requested a return match.

Kolarick, one of the best 150 pounders in the Midwest, was ready to oblige, and the fight is expected to go on before one of the largest crowds ever seen at the auditorium.

Supporting bouts announced so far are:

Eddie Morton, Albany, vs. Johnny Maddox, Cleveland, welterweight, who like Kolarick is a protégé of Johnny Papko, famous trainer of amateurs and pros.

Harold Morton, Albany light-weight vs. Cliff Carson, Cleveland.

Ausanio on Card

Joe Ausanio, Kingston middleweight vs. Sid McDonald of Gloversville, who defeated Tommy "Tiger" Davis on the last card.

There will be three three round preliminaries on the bill, the first one scheduled for 9 o'clock.

Injuries Slow Pennant Race; Pete Reiser Crashes Into Wall

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Injuries the first week in June may have been the turning point of the campaign for the major baseball league 1947 race winners.

In the past few days the Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox

in the American League and the Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago

Cubs in the National have been crippled by injuries which might prove damaging to their pennant aspirations.

Pete Reiser, Dodger star centerfielder, suffered a "laceration of the skull" in a collision with the concrete centerfield wall at Ebbets Field.

Dr. Dominic Rossi, the Dodgers' physician, said Reiser had a

V-shaped cut on the top of his head but could not immediately determine the seriousness of the injury.

Three Detroit regulars were injured in yesterday's double header with the New York Yankees.

They were George Kell, hard-hitting third baseman; Dick

Wakefield, slugging left fielder and Paul (Dizzy) Trout, one of the Tigers' first string pitchers.

Kell suffered cuts on the left knee sliding into second. Trout spikes of New York's George Slinnweiss, on a close play at third. Wakefield twisted his left knee sliding into second. Trout, leading 6-2 in the last of the seventh of the same game, gave way to Freddie Hutchinson after a recurrence of an old groin injury.

Cubs Lineup Suffers

In Tuesday night's game at the Polo Grounds, the Cubs suffered three mishaps. Third Baseman Stan Hack twisted a leg while chasing a Giant player in a rundown. He will be out indefi-nately. Outfielder Bill Nicholson and First Baseman Ed Waitkus were hit by batted balls and Waitkus fell headlong into box seats. Only two days before,

Second Baseman Don Johnson was sidelined by injuries.

The Red Sox, already hard-pressed by the season-long loss of southpaw Pitcher Mickey Harris, lost their fleet centerfielder, Don

DiMaggio, who pulled a shoulder ligament and will be out indefi-nately.

The Chicago White Sox lost second baseman Cass Michaels for a time when he crashed with center fielder Thurman Tucker chasing

a fly ball. The Cincinnati

Reds also were minus the services of left fielder Augie Galan who pulled a muscle in his leg.

On the playing end, the Cubs, behind the four-hit pitching of Fordham Hank Borowy, handed the Giants their first shutout defeat of the season 6-0 and went into a first place tie with the New Yorkers.

Reese Homers for Brooklyn

The Dodgers, led by Pee Wee

Reese, who hit a grand slam home run off Elmer Singleton, moved within four points of the deadlock

Cubs and Giants by whipping the Pirates for the third straight time

9-4.

Detroit retained its two game lead in the American League by dividing a double header with the Yankees. After the Tigers had copped the opener 6-2 behind

Trout, the Yankees unbosied their siege guns to take the nightcap

17-8.

Bobby Feller, who recently disclosed he suffered from a stiff shoulder, won his first game since

May 18 when he pitched the Indians to a 6-2 victory over Washington in a night game in Cleveland.

The Boston Braves prevented

the St. Louis Cardinals from leaving the National League cellar by defeating the Redbirds 3-1 in a night game in Boston. The win put the Braves one game behind the leaders.

Home runs by Ted Williams and Sarge Mele, the latter with one on, gave the Boston Red Sox and Joe

Dobson, a 5-2 victory over the Browns in St. Louis.

Ken Heintzelman pitched the Phillies to a 9-2 win over the Cincinnati Reds in Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia Athletics pounded across seven runs in the top of the 11th to whip the White Sox in Chicago 10-3.

Dodgers Trip Mahanoy City 7-1 With Ease

Braun Hurls Win; Shutout Foiled by Kingston Error

The Kingston Dodgers were on their way to a one-sided victory behind the no-run pitching of southpaw Ken Braun, but the shutout attempts were foiled in the top half of the 8th when second baseman John Medina of the Mahanoy City Bluebirds singled to center sending Bernard to third. Jerry Orleman, playing center for the Dodgers, pegged to third to cut the runner, but the third-sacker, Kowalski, let the ball go by him allowing Bernard to reach home with second, tallying the only marker garnered by the losers.

It was 0-0 going into the last half of the second. With two away, Kingston scored two runs on Orleman's single to left center, and Myers' hard grounder to third. The Mahanoy backstop pegged to first to catch Myers, but the first-sacker juggled and Orleman advanced. Myers stole second, and on a bad peg from home to third, going into left field along the foul line, both runners crossed the plate.

The Bluebirds got three hits in the fourth frame, but were unable to score. The Dodgers tallied three runs on as many hits in this inning. J. Williams started with a hard single over second base on a slow-pitched ball. Orleman walked, and with two men on, Myers tripled a hard grounder down the third base foul line into left field. Corrigan grounded to first, safe on a fielder's choice on a peg home to nab Myers who hit the dirt in a safe slide for the third run.

Kingston pushed over two more runs in the fifth, when Kowalski got on and went to third on a double by Wiley Williams whose long fly to center was missed. Orleman's lined single to center scored both runners.

Approximately 750 persons attended the game. Ladies Day found few supporters in the stands. It was a fast game from the standpoint of time, finishing in less than two hours. However, both Braun and Gazdik took their time on the mound, pitching with plenty of stuff but varying little with a speed ball. Sasmann, who relieved Gazdik for the Bluebirds in the 8th gave a fine exhibition of a fast ball, striking out two and causing the third man to face him to ground out to first.

The Dodgers engage Mahanoy City in a doubleheader tonight at the stadium, the first game, a 7-inning affair, starting at 7 o'clock. The second contest is scheduled to go nine innings.

This series means a tilt to the Dodgers, as the second-place Carbondale team is closing in for lead honors.

Maroon and Whites Lose Tennis Game To Newburgh High

Kingston High has now won three out of five matches in the DUSO Tennis League, losing to Newburgh last Tuesday afternoon 5-1, following a 4-1 week-end victory at Poughkeepsie.

In Tuesday's events, DeKay ran his consecutive games streak to 25 before losing one. However, he went on to defeat Muldowney for the Maroon and Whites' only victory of the day. From then on it was all Newburgh.

Halbert lost to Grusky 1-6. Peterson lost to Levitt 1-6. Laidlaw lost to Zweben, 3-6. 1-6.

In the doubles, DeKay and Bookukes were conspicuous by their absence as Halbert and Peterson lost to Zweben and Levitt 12-14, the second set being canceled because of approaching darkness.

Laidlaw and Rosenthal lost the other doubles to Bauman and Kerechusky 6-6, 3-6.

Kingston meets Poughkeepsie Thursday in a non-DUSO game, and engage Middletown next week to close the league season.

Kaye Sportswear Success in Grand Rapids Tourney

The Kaye Sportswear bowling team, the first Kingston team ever to appear in a national tournament, competed in the WIBC tournament held at Grand Rapids, Michigan, over the week-end and ended in the money on all scores.

Jones Take First As Morgans Lose To Staibles 5-2

Morgans, tied for first place before last night's game, lost a City League baseball game 5-2 to Staibles, giving Jones Dairy undisputed rights to the league leadership.

Winning his third game of the year, Jack Watzka, pitching for Staibles, retains the league lead for strikers with 31 so far.

Schryver, second baseman for the winners, made a beautiful stop in the seventh inning, stalling a hard hit ball by diving to the ground and having two runs from crossing the plate.

In 27 tries, Morgans garnered only four hits for two runs. They chalked up four errors. Staibles put five runs across the plate on eight hits and made six errors.

Saugerties Loses To Kingston High In Close Contest

The Kingston High School baseball squad marched to victory over a Saugerties team 4-3 yesterday afternoon on five hits and one costly error that gave the Saugerties players their first earned run in the second inning.

On two hits and an error by Kingston's centerfielder Ken Lowe, Saugerties took the lead 1-0 in the second inning. But the local boys came back in the fourth, when Roe and Glaser walked and the bases were filled on Mike Rlenzo's single to left. Gear reached on a fielder's choice, forcing Roe at the plate. Ken Lowe stroked a single scoring Glaser and Rlenzo. On an infield out Bob Gear tallied the third marker.

Kingston lengthened its lead in the sixth when, with one away, Gear singled and stole second. On Cook's error at third, Gear came all around with the winning run.

Kingston and Newburgh met at the Stadium Friday 4 p. m., in DUSO game that will decide the league championship. If the Kingston team scores with a win it will clinch the flag. Port Ewen and the Middletown Middies are also hooking up in a vital league game that same day.

Frank's Sport Still Leads Softball League

Frank's Sport Shop maintained its first place grip in the City Softball League standings last night by defeating a strong Hercules team 10-1 behind Al Hunt's three-hit pitching.

The game was played at Hasbrouck Park and was featured by three homers hit by Al Hunt, Bosco Tomaseski and Frank Roe of the winners.

In other league games, the Bernard Ollers drubbed B'nai B'rith 11-4, with Joe Amato tossing a five-hit game for the winners. The Ollers' 15-hit assault was led by Johnny Bernard, who got three in four tries. The victors sailed the game away in the second inning with five big runs. The batteries were J. Amato and J. Watzka for the Ollers, with Basch and Halpern going all the way for B'nai B'rith.

Worls defeated Fullers 6-2, Village Rest won over Jacobsons 16-5, and Central Lunch took over Subway Grill No. 2, 9-4. Tony Albary homered for Central Lunch, and Nick Carle triple and doubled. The losers came up with a triple by George Norton.

How to make Father remember you for 730 days!

(AT LEAST!)

LET US ADMIT, here and now, that poor old Dad has been gifted with plenty of "Yes-No-or Maybe" neckwear on HIS DAY.

Being fathers (and tie makers) themselves, the Arrow designers decided to lend a hand. So they made up an extra-special series of Father's Day rayon ties—so unusual, so handsome, that they're guaranteed to bind you to Dad's thoughts for at least two years! (Or 730 days.)

These honeys are called "Vacation Varieties," but they're A-x correct for his working days too. They'll knot to Dad's taste and remain wrinkle-proof almost indefinitely.
